The National Sexual Violence Resource Center (NSVRC) is a clearinghouse of information, resources, and research related to all aspects of sexual violence. Operating as the national project of the Pennsylvania Coalition Against Rape, the NSVRC opened in July 2000 with a grant from the CDC's Division of Violence Prevention. Activities include collecting, reviewing, cataloging, and disseminating information related to sexual violence; coordinating efforts with other organizations and projects; providing technical assistance and customized information packets on specific topics; maintaining a website with current information including upcoming conferences, funding opportunities, job announcements, research, special events and other resources, and links to state and territory coalitions.

The NSVRC also produces a biannual newsletter, The Resource; recommends speakers for conferences; coordinates national sexual assault awareness activities; and identifies emerging policy issues and research needs. The NSVRC is especially committed to expanding access to resources for communities and populations that have been unserved or marginalized. An active and diverse national Advisory Council ensures a breadth and depth of resources. The NSVRC serves coalitions, local rape crisis centers, government and tribal entities, colleges and universities, service providers, researchers, allied organizations, policy-makers, and the general public.

The Video Referral List is updated frequently and the NSVRC welcomes input regarding videos that have been useful in anti-sexual violence efforts or feedback on resources that have been particularly problematic. NSVRC staff is also available to assist you with researching additional educational materials. You may reach us at:

Video Referral List 2004

This list is designed to provide those working to end sexual violence an opportunity to consider a range of products when selecting videos for use in educational or service programs. This is our first attempt to provide video resource information and is not an exhaustive list. Because organizations and communities have a diversity of needs, the NSVRC recommends that you preview videos prior to purchasing. The NSVRC does not sell or loan videos and does not endorse or guarantee the quality of any video on this list. To arrange for a preview or purchase of any videos on this list, please contact the distributors directly.

Our Stories	Meredith Messer's Our Stories is one of the few videos on acquaintance rape made from the perspective of a survivor and a college student. It uses first person narratives of survivors, friends and parents to focus on the perspective of female survivors without alienating or stereotyping men. Our Stories provokes thoughtful discussion of the dynamics and effects of sexual assault - especially "date rape", the complex connections between alcohol and sexual assault, the perception of college culture, the role of family and friends in recovery and strategies for empowering survivors. It is appropriate for high school, college and adult viewers and especially useful for those who do sexual assault prevention work on college campuses. 21 minutes, ©2000 $115.00	E-mail: Our Stories1@aol.com Phone: 310-247-9792
Rape By Any Name	Interlacing the stories of three acquaintance rape survivors with the attitudes, biases, and understandings of experts, prosecutors and defense attorneys, laypeople, and jurors in a powerful mock trial, the video addresses the issues of non-stranger rape, society's distrust of women, and women's right to change their minds. Sex Without Consent: When a Kiss is Not Just a Kiss	A “classic” date rape skit comprised of four college students throwing a party. Between scenes, a narrator fleshes out the dramatic narrative with statistical information. The presentation concludes with interviews with the actors, then out of character. The “talk-back” and question-and-answer session afterwards raises some excellent issues. Viewers described the video as a “great discussion starter” but suggest it not be shown without a counselor present. 35 minutes, ©1995 $189.00	Intermedia, Inc. 1700 Westlake Ave. North, Suite 72 Seattle, WA 98109 Phone: 1-800-553-8336 206-284-2995 Fax: 1-800-553-1655 206-238-0778 http://www.intermedia-inc.com

A View From the Shadows: Talking About Child Sex Abuse (Vol. III)	An African-American boy and teenage girl discuss their experiences of sexual abuse by an uncle and family friend. Family members of the children are also interviewed. Cordelia Anderson, an expert on child sexual abuse, discusses the emotional and behavioral signs of abuse and how parents can talk with their children. Ideal for parents, teachers, and counselors.  25 minutes, ©2001 $189.00	Intermedia, Inc. 1700 Westlake Ave. North, Suite 724 Seattle, WA 98109 Phone: 1-800-553-8336 Fax: 206-283-0778 http://www.intermedia-inc.com
No! A Work In Progress	Through music, speakers, dramatizations, and artistic documentaries this video addresses issues of racism, sisterhood, and rape within the African American community. Predominantly targeted to Black Americans, the video links anti-sexual violence movements to Black Power and encourages community action. Note: As the title suggests, this video is a “work in progress” – since it is only a “rough draft” it does not offer solid solutions.  20 minutes, ©2000	Aishah Shahidah Simmons c/o AfroLez® Productions PO Box 58085 Philadelphia, PA 19102-8085 Phone: 215-557-8154 Fax: 215-972-8109 Email: AfroLez@aol.com

The Children We Sacrifice	Shot in India, Sri Lanka, Canada and the United States, this documentary is about incestuous sexual abuse of the South Asian girl children. By interweaving survivors' narratives, including the producer's own story, with interviews with South Asian mental health professionals, statistical information, as well as poetry and art, "The Children We Sacrifice" discloses the many layers of a subject traditionally shrouded in secrecy. Insights into the far-reaching psychological, social and cultural consequences of incest are accompanied by thoughtful assessments of strategies that have helped adult women cope with childhood trauma. Police Rape Training Video	First available from NO MORE in 2000, and in an earlier version from the Seattle Police Department, this powerful video is a presentation of a Police officer talking to new officers about how to handle rape cases. Sgt. Ramon shares the story of a male police officer who went about his everyday business and was raped by two men. Afterward, other officers didn't believe it happened as he said it did, couldn't understand why he didn't fight back, and blamed him for what happened. This video is especially useful for helping men understand what it might feel like to be raped and is an excellent resource on victim empathy for law enforcement. 20 minutes, ©2002 $40.00	NO MORE John D. The Children We Sacrifice	Shot in India, Sri Lanka, Canada and the United States, this documentary is about incestuous sexual abuse of South Asian girl children. By interweaving survivors' narratives, including the producer's own story, with interviews with South Asian mental health professionals, statistical information, as well as poetry and art, "The Children We Sacrifice" discloses the many layers of a subject traditionally shrouded in secrecy. Insights into the far-reaching psychological, social and cultural consequences of incest are accompanied by thoughtful assessments of strategies that have helped adult women cope with childhood trauma. The video also analyzes social and cultural resistance in South Asia and the Diaspora to dealing with incest's causes and its effects on its victims. 61 minutes, ©2000 $195.00	Women Make Movies            462 Broadway Suite 500WS            New York, NY 10013            Phone: 212-925-0606            Fax: 212-925-2052  http://www.wmm.com

Macho	In 1998, Nicaraguan Sandinista leader and ex-President Daniel Ortega was accused of raping and battering his stepdaughter. Despite Ortega's eventual acquittal--he was granted immunity from prosecution as a member of the legislature--a group of pioneering men rallied around the episode to organize a radical campaign against domestic violence and sexual abuse. Their efforts eventually led to the formation of the internationally acclaimed organization, Men Against Violence. This video provides an in-depth profile of Men Against Violence and its ground-breaking work towards eliminating attitudes of male chauvinism (known as machismo in Spanish) that have perpetuated violent acts against women in Nicaragua and Latin America. The film demonstrates that despite living in one of the most destitute countries in Latin America, this group has succeeded in providing a model that is used by men worldwide to discuss issues of violence and advocate for the rights of women. 26 minutes, ©2000 $195.00	Women Make Movies 462 Broadway Suite 500WS New York, NY 10013 Phone: 212-925-0606 Fax: 212-925-2052 http://www.wmm.com
Senorita Extraviada, Missing Young Woman	"Señorita Extraviada, Missing Young Woman" tells the haunting story of the more than 200 kidnapped, raped and murdered young women of Juárez, Mexico. Visually poetic, yet unflinching in its gaze, this compelling investigation unravels the layers of complicity that have allowed for the brutal murders of women living along the Mexico-U.S. border. In the midst of Juárez's international mystique and high profile job market, there exists a murky history of grossly underreported human rights abuses and violence against women. Relying on what Portillo comes to see as the most reliable of sources – the testimonies of the families of the victims – "Señorita Extraviada" documents a two-year search for the truth in the underbelly of the new global economy. 74 minutes, ©2001 rental: $95.00, sale: $295.00	Women Make Movies 462 Broadway Suite 500WS New York, NY 10013 Phone: 212-925-0606 Fax: 212-925-2052 http://www.wmm.com

Hate.com: Extremists on the Internet	The Internet, while promoting free speech and the exchange of ideas, is also a “super breeding ground” and recruitment tool for hate groups. This chilling program addresses the use of the Internet to spread messages of hate and violence. Don Black, founder of Stormfront; Matt Hale, founder of the World Church of the Creator; Richard Butler, founder of Aryan Nations and Christian Identity; and Dr. William Pierce, founder of the National Alliance and author of The Turner Diaries, expound their doctrines, tactics, and goals. Profiles Timothy McVeigh, Benjamin Smith, the lynchers of James Byrd, and others. Contains inflammatory language and imagery. Frontline: Assault on Gay America	On February 1999, in Sylacauga, Alabama, 30-year-old computer programmer Bill Jack Gaither was murdered, the victim of a violent hate crime. The accused killer, a known white supremacist, testified he killed Gaither because he was "queer." Why have gays like Gaither and Matthew Shepard become the targets of such brutality? FRONTLINE correspondent Forrest Sawyer explores the roots of homophobia in America -- as a catalyst for hate crimes and as a phenomenon that permeates our society -- and asks how these attitudes, beliefs and fears contribute to the recent rise in violence against gays. Wrestling With Manhood	Wrestling with Manhood deals with the enormous popularity of professional wrestling among male youth, addressing its relationship to real-life violence and probing the social values that sustain it as a powerful cultural force. Richly illustrating their analysis with numerous examples, Sut Jhally and Jackson Katz, award-winning creators of the videos Dreamworlds and Tough Guise respectively, offer a new way to think about the enduring problems of men’s violence against women and bullying in our schools. Drawing the connection between professional wrestling and the construction of contemporary masculinity, they show how so-called “entertainment” is related to homophobia, sexual assault and relationship violence. They further argue that to not engage with wrestling in a serious manner allows cynical promoters of violence and sexism an uncontested role in the process by which boys become “men.” VHS: 60 minutes-full-length, 45 minutes-abridged, DVD: 60 minutes-full-length, 45 minutes abridged +15 minutes extra interviews on DVD @2002 High Schools and Non-Profits $150.00 Colleges and Universities $250.00	Media Education Foundation 60 Masonic Street Northampton, MA 01060 Phone: 1800-897-0089 413-584-8500 Fax: 1800-659-6882 413-586-8398 http://www.mediaed.org

Tough Guise: Violence, Media, and the Crisis in Masculinity	Narrated by Jackson Katz, this video systematically examines the relationship between images of popular culture and the social construction of masculine identities in the U.S. Using clips from movies and television, Katz illustrates how men are pressured to assume a “tough guise” to be “masculine” and exposes how this socialization to be tough and controlling contributes to interpersonal violence. Note: A study guide is also available. VHS: 82 minutes (full-length), 57 minutes (abridged)            DVD: 87 minutes (full-length) +18 minutes extra interviews on DVD, 56 minutes (abridged) +18 minutes extra interviews on DVD            ©1999 High Schools and Non-Profits $150.00  Colleges and Universities $275.00	Media Education Foundation            60 Masonic Street            Northampton, MA 01060            Phone: 1800-897-0089            413-584-8500            Fax: 1800-659-6882            413-586-8398  http://www.mediaed.org
Wrestling With Manhood	Wrestling with Manhood deals with the enormous popularity of professional wrestling among male youth, addressing its relationship to real-life violence and probing the social values that sustain it as a powerful cultural force. Drawing the connection between professional wrestling and the construction of contemporary masculinity, they show how so-called “entertainment” is related to homophobia, sexual assault and relationship violence. They further argue that to not engage with wrestling in a serious manner allows cynical promoters of violence and sexism an uncontested role in the process by which boys become “men.” VHS: 60 minutes-full-length, 45 minutes-abridged, DVD: 60 minutes-full-length, 45 minutes abridged +15 minutes extra interviews on DVD            @ 2002 High Schools and Non-Profits $150.00  Colleges and Universities $250.00	Media Education Foundation            60 Masonic Street            Northampton, MA 01060            Phone: 1800-897-0089            413-584-8500            Fax: 1800-659-6882            413-586-8398  http://www.mediaed.org

Surviving Rape: A Journey through Grief	If rape victims are to become rape survivors, living healthy and happy lives again, they must recognize and deal with their grief. This program explains the five stages of the grieving process that rape victims encounter: denial, anger, depression, bargaining, and acceptance. Five women--all rape survivors--recall their experiences of rape and subsequent grief. Although each woman's road to recovery was different, they all shared common feelings of shame, self-hatred, and guilt before finally reaching acceptance and self-love. They stress the importance of talking about the rape and seeking help from a support group in order to begin healing. Juvenile Sex Offenders: Voices Unheard	An average pedophile will molest 363 children in his or her lifetime. This program goes to a lock-down and into the community to develop a profile of juvenile sex offenders and to study the pioneering work of organizations attempting to reintegrate offenders into society. Interviews with experts reveal the causes behind the actions of young sex offenders, including sex abuse in their own young lives. 58 minutes, ©1997 $149.95	Films for the Humanities &amp; the Sciences PO Box 2053 Princeton, NJ 08543-2053 Phone: 1800-257-5126 609-275-1400 Fax: 609-275-3767 http://www.films.com
Sadistic versus Non-Sadistic Sex Offenders	Anna Salter hosts this video, in which she interviews incarcerated child molesters and sex offenders (4 white males from the Alabama Department of Corrections). The video attempts to explain sex offenders' thought process, how they rationalize their actions, and what motivates them in order to predict a general treatment program. Three kinds of offenders are interviewed – sadistic, non-sadistic, and psychopathic. The candidness of the offenders during the interviews has been described as “disturbing information” by viewers. Note: The video is not designed for victims, but provides information for those who are interested in or work with sex offenders. 40 minutes, ©1998 $125.00	Specialized Training Services 9606 Tierra Grande, Suite 105 San Diego, CA. 92126 Phone: 1-800-848-1226 858-695-1313 Fax: 858-695-6599 http://www.specializedtraining.com/
Truth, Lies, and Sex Offenders Part I: Truth, Lies, and Sex Offenders	A film about sex offender denial and deceit, this video demystifies the techniques sex offenders engage in to hide their crimes from themselves and others. Through riveting interviews with convicted sex offenders, clinician and scholar Anna C. Salter focuses on important patterns that can help viewers understand and identify the sex offender's use of denial. This video is ideal for training purposes, because it makes clear that we cannot rely on self-report or demeanor when assessing whether or not someone is a sex offender. Note: The video is not designed for victims, but provides information for those who are interested in or work with sex offenders. Our Stories	Meredith Messer’s Our Stories is one of the few videos on acquaintance rape made from the perspective of a survivor and a college student. It uses first person narratives of survivors, friends and parents to focus on the perspective of female survivors without alienating or stereotyping men. It gives the viewer a better understanding not only of facts and statistics but of the impact of rape on a survivor and those closest to her. Our Stories provokes thoughtful discussion of the dynamics and effects of sexual assault - especially "date rape", the complex connections between alcohol and sexual assault, the perception of college culture, the role of family and friends in recovery and strategies for empowering survivors. It is appropriate for high school, college and adult viewers and especially useful for those who do sexual assault prevention work on college campuses. 21 minutes, ©2000 $115.00	E-mail: Our Stories1@aol.com Phone: 310-247-9792

Surviving Rape: A Journey through Grief	If rape victims are to become rape survivors, living healthy and happy lives again, they must recognize and deal with their grief. This program explains the five stages of the grieving process that rape victims encounter: denial, anger, depression, bargaining, and acceptance. Five women--all rape survivors--recall their experiences of rape and subsequent grief. Although each woman's road to recovery was different, they all shared common feelings of shame, self-hatred, and guilt before finally reaching acceptance and self-love. They stress the importance of talking about the rape and seeking help from a support group in order to begin healing. This program provides compelling media support to Health and Guidance units on rape prevention, survival and coping, violence prevention, self esteem, and crime prevention. 33 minutes, ©1992 $99.95	AIMS Multimedia            9710 DeSoto Avenue            Chatsworth, CA 91311-4409            Phone: 1-800-367-2467            Fax: 818-341-6700  http://www.aimsmultimedia.com/

Secret Sounds Screaming	This sharp, creatively produced tape uses a tapestry of voices to examine the sexual abuse of young people. Children and teenagers, parents, social workers and community activists as well as abusers themselves speak out, revealing the power dynamics of child abuse within the context of race and class. Focusing on societal attitudes, frustrations of the legal process and the media's eroticization of children, the tape reveals the scars and survival journeys of survivors and provides suggestions for educating young people. 30 minutes, ©1986 $225.00	Women Make Movies 462 Broadway Suite 500WS New York, NY 10013 Phone: 212-925-0606 Fax: 212-925-2052 http://www.wmm.com
